

THE W.C.T.U. DEFEATS LADY SOMERSET

HER THEORY REPUDIATED BY THE TORONTO CONVENTION.

Many Reforms Indorsed—Prominent Evils Which the Christian Sentiment of the Country Should Endeavor to Wipe Out Are Enumerated
In the Resolutions Passed

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 27.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union convention was brought to a close with a rousing platform meeting Tuesday night. The convention will long be remembered by white ribboners as the occasion of the best fight they ever fought to prevent any compromise of principle. The United States delegates, were largely in the majority in this convention and they stood determinedly together in their opposition to Lady Henry Somerset and insisted that the world's union should take no ambiguous or uncertain stand on the question of morality. They would not listen to any compromise on the matter. There was to be no code of manners for India that could not obtain in the United States. They insisted on passing a strong resolution touching this matter and they were supported by most of the delegates from other countries. A series of resolutions embodying their views was passed practically unanimously.

These resolutions were also passed: Against the use of opium in its various forms, cocaine, chloral and any other habit-forming drugs, and exhorting physicians to exercise great caution in prescribing narcotics; opposing the use of tobacco in any form, and especially pledging the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to work against the manufacture of cigarettes and their sale to youths; deploring the massacres in Armenia, and earnestly hoping the European powers will take such steps as shall render such heart-breaking scenes impossible of repetition.

The resolutions further declare that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is unalterably opposed to lynching at all times in every nature; also protests against the christening of ships with wine; favors the eight-hour law for wage-workers, and urges Sunday as a day of rest and worship; opposes strikes, and urges wage-workers to unite and strike a blow at this evil at the ballot-box; and, finally, favors the organization of women by themselves for their own advancement.

The following general officers were re-elected unanimously: Miss Willard, president, United States; Lady Henry Somerset, vice president, England; Miss Slack, secretary, England; Miss Gordon, assistant secretary, United States; Mrs. Sanderson, treasurer, Canada.

The purity conference is in session today. Dr. Mary Wood Allen presides and the conference is for the public.

A list of delegates present was read. The totals are: United States, 137; Canada, 10; Great Britain, 25; all other countries, 30. Total, 202.

Commander Evangeline Booth of the salvation army made an address which deeply impressed the audience. She paid a fine tribute to Miss Willard and assured her of the sympathy and prayers of the salvation army in the great temperance warfare.

Miss Slack, on behalf of the executive committee, made a statement to the composition of that body. The basis of representation was national rather than numerical. On no other plan would a world's convention be practical. Under numerical representation the United States would control the convention, elect the officers and outvote the other national representatives, who were not likely to submit to such control after traveling thousands of miles to attend the convention. She emphatically protested against any rearrangement which would enable the country in which the convention met to swamp the votes of all the other countries.

Russia Ready for War.

London, Oct. 27.—The Odessa correspondent of the Daily Mail, commenting on the immense growth of the Russian navy in recent years, especially in transport vessels, says: "Russia could quickly pour hundreds of thousands of troops and the material of war into India by way of the Black sea and the trans-Caucasian and Daghestan railways. Great Britain would be at an enormous disadvantage if involved in a war with Russia, while the Russians boast that in the event of a crisis the ameer of Afghanistan would be on their side."

Break World's Triplet Record.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27.—The world's triplet record for a mile was lowered from 1:44 to 1:41 by McDuffie, Church and Fowler, in the face of a strong wind at Willow Grove track Tuesday. The previous record was made by Johnson, Mertens and Kiser, at Detroit, but as Tuesday's event was not under L. A. W. sanction the new time will probably not be recognized.

Political Murder in Ohio.

Cincinnati, Oct. 27.—Patrick A. Joy, a Democratic politician of the fourth ward, is dead from a pistol shot wound from a weapon in the hands of Louis Trosky, a Republican politician of the same ward. Both men were drunk and were recognized as dangerous men. Trosky is out on $5,000 bail

BIG WIRE MILL TRUST.

J. Pierpont Morgan Now Forming a Syndicate in London.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—J. Pierpont Morgan is now in London for the purpose of securing subscriptions to a syndicate which will purchase the plants of all the wire, barbed wire and wire nail mills in the United States. Everything points to the success of the proposed consolidation of steel wire and wire nail industries, and if the present plans are carried out the headquarters of the gigantic combination will be in Chicago. It will absolutely control the manufacture of plain wire, market wire, wire nails and barbed wire, an industry which uses 1,000,000 tons of steel billets and which employs 50,000 men.

John Lambert, vice president and general manager of the Consolidated Steel and Wire Company of Chicago, said in reference to the story of a probable combination that such a thing was being discussed, and that it was inevitable if the business was to be conducted at a profit. He refused to give any details of the new company other than to say it was being seriously considered.

CRISIS IN DAHOMEY.

French and British Troops Dispatched to the Hinterland.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Journal says news has reached St. Louis from the Dahomey Hinterland to the effect that complications are imminent at Nikki and elsewhere in Borgu, of which territory Nikki is the capital, and which, it is claimed in England, belongs to Great Britain by virtue of a treaty concluded with the King of Borgu prior to the treaties made with that monarch by representatives of France. It is added that on receipt of the news M. Lebon, minister for the colonies, who is now in Senegambia looking after French interests, immediately dispatched re-enforcements to Dahomey. La Goss, West Coast of Africa, Oct. 26.—A detachment of the West Indian regiment stationed here has started for the frontier of the Hinterland.

Home Rule for Indiana.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 27.—The initial step toward what may be the final termination of the vexed Indian problem in the Indian Territory has just been taken by Chief Isparecher in a special message to the Creek council. The plan advocated is supposed to be the result of the recent conference of leaders of the Cherokee, Creek and Seminole tribes, and Chief Mayes of the Cherokee Nation is known to favor the plan. Chief Isparecher recommends the holding of a convention of the leading men of the five civilized tribes, to the end that the United States' government may receive definite proposals looking to the establishment of a government "of the Indians and for the Indians of the five civilized tribes."

Warrant for J. C. Obert.

St. Louis, Oct. 27.—An indictment charging embezzlement has been returned by the grand jury against John C. Obert, formerly secretary of the North End and the North St. Louis Building and Loan associations, for which are pending petitions for the appointment of receivers. The amount of the shortage, which is supposed to be in the thousands, is not given. A warrant has been issued for Obert, who has turned over all his property and disappeared.

Democrats Denounce Carter Harrison.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Silver Democrats last night held a meeting and devoted the evening to scathing denunciations of Croker and Van Wyck, the Tammany candidate for mayor of Greater New York. Resolutions were unanimously adopted condemning Mayor Harrison for his trip to New York in the interests of Tammany.

To Probe Shooting of Miners.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 27.—Judge Lynch Tuesday overruled the objection raised by the counsel for the relatives of the victims of the Lattimer shooting, and refused to dismiss the grand jury on the ground that it was drawn illegally. The grand jury was then sworn in.

Another Loan Needed by Spain.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The Frankfort Zeitung today publishes a dispatch from Madrid which quotes the Spanish minister of finance, Senor Puigcerver, as saying that a fresh large loan is necessary, as the funds of Spain will be exhausted in June, 1898.

To Build a Big Dry Dock.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—The directors of the Port Arthur Dock and Channel company have decided to build a dry dock at Port Arthur, Tex., capable of accommodating a big steamer 500 feet in length, and any two United States cruisers.

Breach of Etiquette Resented.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The newspapers of this city publish a telegram from Saragossa, Spain, declaring the king of Siam, who has been visiting Spain and Portugal, has condemned a member of his suite to be executed for a breach of etiquette committed at Lisbon.

Rifts for Philippine Rebels.

Hong Kong, via Tacoma, Oct. 27.—The steamship Olympia from the Orient brings advices that 16,000 rifles from Hong Kong and Shanghai have been received by the Philippine rebels on the west coast of Luzon.

SPAIN HAS REJECTED

ALL OUR OFFERS

ENERGETIC REPLY TO NOTE OF THE UNITED STATES.

Text of Document Withheld—The Spanish Government Hopes to End the War by the Granting of Autonomy and Withdrawal of American Support by Insurgents.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—The Spanish government refuses to furnish for publication the text of the note of Spain which has been handed to the United States minister here, General Stewart L. Woodford, as an answer to the communication which the general placed in the hands of the Duke of Tetuan early in September, when the latter was minister for foreign affairs, on the subject of the insurrection in the island of Cuba. The United States minister admits having received Spain's reply to the note of the United States, but he declines to discuss the matter beyond saying that the text of the Spanish answer will be immediately transmitted to Washington.

Although the government of Spain will not give out the text of its reply to the United States, it was officially announced that the reply of the Spanish minister for foreign affairs, Senor Guillon, is on the following lines: It expresses regret at the fact that the insurrection in Cuba "receives support from frequent American filibustering expeditions" and that otherwise the rebellion in Cuba would possibly not exist. It is hoped by the Spanish government that by granting autonomy to Cuba and the withdrawing of American support of the insurgents the insurrection will shortly be ended.

It is further officially announced that the Spanish note is marked throughout by an energetic tone.

"POLICY OF RAPINE."

Paris Newspaper Makes a Violent Attack on the United States.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Soleil makes a violent attack upon the policy of the United States toward Spain, and declares that it "merely serves as a disguise for the ambitions of politicians and the mercantile calculations of speculators." The paper adds: "Cuba would be splendid prey for American politicians and speculators, who hesitate at nothing. United Europe would do well to support Spain against such a policy of rapine."

Public Land Statistics.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Commissioner of the General Land Office Binger Herman has submitted his annual report to the secretary of the interior. Compared with the previous year, it shows a decrease of 3,298 original homestead entries, aggregating 378,625 acres. In the entire disposals of public land there was a falling off of 5,370,406 acres. The area sold for cash reached 419,052 acres and miscellaneous entries aggregated 7,334,554 acres. There were patented or certified with the effect of patenting for the benefit of railroad companies, under congressional grants, 5,101,969 acres, a decrease of over 10,000,000 acres from the previous year.

Americans in Havana Alarmed.

Havana, Oct. 27.—Considerable anxiety is expressed among the American residents of this city as to the outcome of the demonstration which the volunteers are expected to make on Friday or Saturday next upon the departure of General Weyler for Spain. In spite of the orders from Madrid and the steps taken by the Spanish volunteers here, there is still apparently a determination upon the part of the volunteers to make the general's departure from Havana the occasion of an anti-American demonstration. Should this be the case it is feared that serious trouble may ensue.

Fifty-Four Trampled to Death.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—A terrible casualty has taken place at the village of Khnieff, in the Kozloff district, on the western coast of the Crimea. While service was in progress in the village church an alarm of fire was raised. A panic ensued in the crowded congregation, and in the stampede for the exits fifty-four persons were killed by suffocation or being trampled and eighty others were seriously injured.

Talks of War with Spain.

London, Oct. 27.—The Morning Advertiser says: "The offices of some mutually friendly government might be offered to Spain and America, just as a third party was called in settle the Caroline dispute. On that occasion little Spain showed she was not afraid to tackle big Germany. If necessary she would probably have less hesitation in going to war with the United States."

Illinois Knights Templar in Session.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Edward C. Pace, of Ashley, called the forty-first convocation of the Illinois Knights Templar to order yesterday. The greater part of the morning session was occupied by the grand commander's opening address. In the afternoon the time was taken up with the reports of committees and officers. J. P. Sherwin, of Chicago, was chosen grand commander.

Fever Situation at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 27.—Fifty new cases and five deaths were reported Tuesday.

BLIZZARD IN WEST

SWEEPS THIS WAY

MUCH DAMAGE TO PROPERTY
IN COLORADO.

Denver's Loss Is $100,000—All Railroad Traffic in the State Thrown Into Confusion—Atlantic Storm Proves the Worst That Has Been Experienced For Years.

Denver, Col., Oct. 27.—A severe snow storm, accompanied by a high wind from the north, began here Monday night and continued with increasing fury all day Tuesday. Wires are generally down to the west and south, and railroad trains are much delayed. In this city many telegraph and telephone and electric light poles have been broken down and shade trees have been badly damaged.

Aside from the tremendous inconvenience caused the public and private interests the storm has wrought damage in the city of Denver and its suburbs that is conservatively estimated to be in excess of $100,000. The estimate of damage includes only the semi-public concerns, such as the electric light, telephone, telegraph and street-car companies.

All freight trains have been annulled to enable the roads to handle passengers without any more delay than is absolutely necessary.

Railroad reports show that the storm was general throughout the eastern half and a section of the northern part of this state, the southern part of Wyoming, the northeastern part of Utah and the western half of Nebraska and Kansas.

The storm came so suddenly that ranchmen did not have an opportunity to shelter their stock, but the fall in temperature is not great enough to endanger the lives of cattle.

LOSSES ON THE COAST.

Atlantic Storm Said to Be the Most Disastrous For Years.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 27.—The Delaware coast is storm-swept. From Rehoboth on the south, all the way up the shore of the Delaware bay, are unmistakable marks of the fury of the great northeastern storm which set in on Sunday morning. In point of destructiveness, in breadth of sweep the storm was the worst Delaware has had for nineteen years. The great storm of 1889, when twenty-six vessels were blown ashore at the breakwater, is insignificant compared with it.

The schooners Lee, Vaughn and Falkenberg will be total losses. No lives have been lost. The life-saving crews landed the crews of all the stranded vessels.

Loss at Cripple Creek.

Cripple Creek, Col., Oct. 27.—Not in years has there been such a blizzard here as that which prevails at the present time. High winds are drifting the snow that makes sidewalks in places almost impassable. Traffic on railroads is suspended and telephone wires are down. Considerable damage to property has occurred. Mining operations are seriously impeded by the storm. The weather is very cold, and it is feared there will be great suffering among the poor.

Range Cattle Will Suffer.

Chamberlain, S. D., Oct. 27.—Rain which had been steadily falling for fifteen hours Tuesday morning turned to snow, accompanied by a severe northwest wind. The snow is very moist. Many cattle are not provided with shelter, and it is more severe on them than the worst storms in the middle of winter, because the snow sticks to them and thoroughly chills them.

The Storm in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 27.—A blizzard prevailed all over western Nebraska last night, the first storm of the season. The railroads of Nebraska report a storm of rain, snow and sleet along their respective lines in the western portion of the state, in Colorado and in Wyoming.

Cold Weather in South Dakota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 27.—Specials from many points in central and eastern South Dakota are to the effect that a heavy rain has changed to snow and sleet, and the temperature is rapidly falling under the influence of a cold north wind.

Jealous Man Kills His Wife.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 27.—Jealousy, it is claimed, caused Newton Kempfer to shoot his wife, killing her instantly, and to fire two shots at his only child, Emma, 4 years of age. Kempfer declared that his wife's affections had been alienated. Neighbors disarmed Kempfer. He broke away from them and ran to the woods, followed by an excited crowd. He eluded them and disguised himself by cutting off his mustache, and was endeavoring to get on a Vandalia train when he was captured.

Cannot Get Together.

London, Oct. 27.—The federated employers at a meeting held at Manchester are understood to have agreed to a conference with the representatives of the striking engineers on the lines suggested by Ritchie, president of the board of trade, provided the eight-hour demand be withdrawn and that question not raised at the conference. The engineers refused.

DYNAMITE WAS USED.

Mr. Depew Believes the Garrison's Wreck Was Premeditated.

New York, Oct. 27.—The Herald and World quote Chauncey M. Depew, president of the New York Central railroad, as saying that the wreck at Garrison's last Sunday was caused by a dynamite explosion. He is quoted thus:

"Any one who is familiar with railroading knows that the continual pounding of trains over a roadbed has the effect of beating it down till it is like rock. That roadbed has been in use forty years, and the fact that it was like a rock is shown by the fact that immediately after the wreck, before workmen had filled in any, the break showed a clean cut perpendicular cleavage. The popular notion that this was due to a landslide is not borne out by this. When there is a landslide the bank takes the shape of an inclined plane. The fact that this was found as it was shows that the break must have been formed in an unusual way.

"The only thing that could have done it would have been a stick of dynamite rammed down in the roadbed. That would have done it. I don't say that we have any evidence that such was the case, but when I sent word to our detective, Mr. Humphreys, to make investigations along that line, he told me that he had reason to suspect something of the sort before. So I ordered that a thorough investigation be made.

"You must bear in mind that an hour before this wreck another and heavier train passed over the road in safety; that thirty minutes before that a train went up on the other track and noticed nothing wrong, and that nobody heard any report. Whatever caused the accident, it is certain that the engine went clear over the obstruction and was injured after it left the track."

GAGE'S CURRENCY PLAN.

Would Put the Nation Unequivocally
Upon a Gold Basis.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Secretary of the Treasury Gage on Tuesday read to the President and the cabinet the recommendations as to financial legislation which he will make to congress in his annual report.

He proposes to strike at the root of all the difficulties that have embarrassed the treasury during the last few years by recommending that the country be put unequivocally upon the gold basis, and that the treasury be taken out of the banking business.

The keynote of the secretary's scheme is the refunding of the present bonded debt of the country in gold bonds bearing 2½ per cent interest. He believes that bonds which declare on their face that they are payable, principal and interest, in gold, can easily be sold at that rate.

NO LOSS TO UNCLE SAM.

Union Pacific Debt to Be Fully Met and Sale Not to Be Put Off.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The administration has executed the masterstroke of the dealings with the Pacific railroad question by bringing from the Union Pacific reorganization committee a raise in its last bid of over $8,000,000, bringing it up to a point exceeding $58,000,000, an amount sufficient to pay the government dollar for dollar everything it ever put into this road. With this arranged beyond the possibility of doubt or disagreement, the plan for a postponement of the sale was abandoned and the sale will take place at the time originally fixed—next Monday, at Omaha.

Gov. Tanner's Course in Doubt.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—Gov. Tanner has given no intimation of his intention in regard to calling an extra session of the legislature. The committee of the Chicago Civic federation is here with a request that he include in the call the passage of a primary election bill and a revision of the revenue law, but these things are of secondary importance to the governor compared with his apportionment scheme, and it is not likely that he will take any action until it is certain that he can count safely on the passage of his pet measure.

Victims Now Number Twenty.

Garrison's, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Twenty lives are known to have been lost in Sunday's accident on the New York Central Railroad, and eighteen bodies have been found. The body of an unknown man was recovered Tuesday, as well as that of the fireman. The body removed, the seventeenth since the wreck, and the twentieth known victim, was that of a man thirty-five years of age, with a short dark mustache.

Daring Robbery at Woods, N. D.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 27.—One of the most daring robberies in the history of the state occurred Monday night at Woods, a small station a few miles from Fargo. S. M. Gaylord, agent of the Monarch Elevator Company, was dragged from his bed in the office of the elevator and was beaten severely. He was tied hands and feet to the bedposts and robbed of the company's money, reaching into the thousands. A posse is in pursuit of the robbers.

University Has No Students.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 27.—The Baptist University, from which institution the pupils all walked out a few days ago, is in a peculiar position. The trustees refuse to remove the president and the students refuse to return until this is done.

THREE FIREMEN HIT AT OSHKOSH BLAZE

FRONT WALL OF THE FOWLER HOUSE BLOWS OUT.

The Old Hotel Catches Fire Early This Morning and Is Wholly Destroyed—Explosion of Hot Air Results in Injury to Three Hose Company Men.

Oshkosh, Oct. 27.—[Special]—The Fowler House, one of the oldest hotels in the city, burned this morning. While firemen were at work an explosion of hot air blew out the front wall.

Firemen Jack O'Connell, Edward Wallace and William Johnson were badly hurt about the head and chest.

Eight other firemen got inside the building just in time to avoid being hit by the falling walls. The loss on the hotel is about $4,000.

Clinton Marriage a Surprise.

Clinton, Wis., Oct. 27.—[Special]—The many friends of F. M. Barrows and Miss Julia Guild were greatly surprised to day on learning of their marriage, which took place last May. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Leek, pastor of the M. E. church of this place. Mr. Barrows has been an employee of the O. & N. W. railway line, for the past three years. Although somewhat late their many friends join in extending to them hearty congratulations.

Great Reunion of Veterans.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—The Society of the Army of the Tennessee met in this city to-day for the twenty-ninth reunion of the organization. There are at present about 500 members of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, which is made up of officers of the army which was led first by Grant and later by Sherman, and during the last year there were eleven deaths. Gen. G. M. Dodge will be re-elected president at this reunion.

CHIT-CHAT OF THE STATE

CHARLES E. SMITH, of Oshkosh, lives with a broken neck.

THE F. A. M. lodge of Racine celebrated its fiftieth anniversary Monday evening.

EDITOR FINCH, of La Crosse, has been commissioned minister to Uruguay and Paraguay.

THE new city directory of La Crosse contains 10,000 names. The publisher figures a population of 35,000.

A MOVEMENT is on foot at Madison to have the postoffice closed on Sundays. The ministers of the city are agitating the question.

A LARGE number of new camps are being built in the pines around Ashland and large contracts for banking logs have been made.

WILLIAM JEFFERSON, an old man living near Neenah, has been arrested on the charge of shooting at people who pass his place.

HEREAN KUGEL, a small boy of Racine, fell nine feet, striking on his head on a stone. He has remained unconscious since the accident.

ATTORNEY WATSON of Lodi, has been appointed receiver of the Lodi bank. It is the opinion of many that the bank will be able to meet all claims and resume business in a short time.

MATHEW HENNEBERY, in an Eau Claire saloon drank a glass of beer in which he had put two or two grains of morphine. A doctor gave him a hypodermic injection of apomorphia. The emetic acted and in four hours Hennebery had recovered.

THE Wisconsin Central Railway company had a crew at Greenwood Sunday and laid a track across the right of way of the Foster lumber company's road. When the crew returned in the evening they found that the track had been torn up where it crossed the right of way. After some parleying the lumber company allowed the track to be laid long enough to allow the crew to return.

Heavy Storm in Japan.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 27.—Oriental advices per steamer Olympia state that Sept. 30 a heavy rainstorm spread all over Japan, and up to the time the steamer Olympia left Yokohama reports were coming in of terrible havoc done. From Nagoya, Gifu, Hiroshima, Okayama, Kagawa, Kagoshima, Kioto, Chiba and other places comes news of bridges and embankments having been swept away and enormous damage done. Many people were killed in the several districts. At Musais twenty-two houses collapsed. At Akashi twenty houses were destroyed and twenty-two badly damaged. The Mainichi states that 65,000 houses are flooded at Nagoya.

Indians Miners Make Demands.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 27.—The block coal miners have orders to quit work Saturday unless the operators decide to adopt the check-off system of dues for the United Mine Workers. The operators say they will not do this, as some of their members do not belong to the organization, and it would be unjust to take the dues out of their pay.

AT LAST THEY KNOW HOW CHEESE AGES

WISCONSIN MEN MAKE IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

Not Due to Bacteria, But to Ferments
Proof That Upsets Hitherto Scientific Belief as to the Changes Which Occur in the Development of Cheese.

Dairymen and farmers about the country are deeply interested in discoveries made in Madison during the last few weeks about the ripening of cheese. The discoveries were made by Dr. H. L. Russell and Dr. S. M. Babcock of the Agricultural College and are said to be the most important of the century.

The value of the cheese product is dependent entirely on the manner in which the process of ripening is carried out and yet the cause of this ripening is unknown.

Ever since the days of Abraham milk has been curdled by rennet and made into cheese.

The advances that have been made since have been those that have come as the result of pure experience. Within recent years many attempts have been made by scientists to explain these phenomena.

For years it has been the universal opinion of scientists that the ripening of cheese was due to bacteria in the milk product. Investigation for the most part has been to determine what kind of bacteria was the cause of the phenomena. Drs. Babcock and Russell have discovered that the ripening is due to ferments in the milk product and not to bacteria.

The Development of Ferments.

Instead of relying upon heat to destroy all signs of organic life that existed in the milk, Drs. Babcock and Russell tried chemicals like ether and chloroform, and much to their surprise, they found that the milk itself without the help of any organisms whatever, had the power of undergoing a series of changes that was practically the same as those that take place in the ripening of cheese. Following up this clue they were soon able to demonstrate that this spontaneous digestion was due to the presence of ferments of a peculiar character that were inherent in the milk itself. These ferments, known technically to scientists as enzymes, are peculiar substances of a purely unorganized nature, but which at the same time possess characteristics that ally them closely to living things.

What is Shown By Analysis

A chemical analysis of cheese reveals the fact that the casein or green curd which is insoluble at first, is gradually converted in the soluble substances such as peptones. In this soluble condition the constituents of the cheese can be readily digested and its value as food consists largely in this change, which is also accompanied by the development of peculiar flavors that are so characteristic of different kinds of cheese. No satisfactory explanation has, however, been assigned for this series of chemical transformations.

A study of cheese from a bacteriological point of view shows that is fairly teeming with such microscopic forms of life as bacteria. These in the main come from the milk itself, but even after the cheese is made they grow so luxuriantly that hundreds upon hundreds of millions are found in every mouthful of food. The kinds that are most concerned in this growth are those that form sour milk, but the perplexing problem has been to reconcile the presence of this type of life with the breaking down of cheese, inasmuch as the sour or lactic acid organisms are unable to form soluble substances from insoluble proteins.

Progressive Action of the Discovery

The processes of digestion in the animal body as well as many of the phenomena that occur in the plant kingdom are controlled in the main by the action of these ferments. Most of these enzymes are able to do their "work" in the presence of anaesthetics, while such substances almost immediately inhibit the growth of bacteria. Thus by keeping milk under conditions where bacterial action was excluded, they were able to follow the changes that were solely due to the enzymes in the milk itself. A chemical analysis of such milks at different periods showed the same kind of decomposition products as are ordinarily found in a well ripened cheese. Moreover these products gradually accumulated in quantity showing a progressive action of the ferment.

Speaks of the Discovery.

Speaking of the new discovery Dr. Russell said:

"Discoveries are of two sorts. There are those that are merely applications of some well-known principle, while others strike much deeper and are discoveries of principles themselves. Popular sentiment accords to the discoverer of the first and immediate success if his discovery proves to be valuable by immediate application, but the finder of the principle too often remains unrecognized, because his discovery may not bear immediate fruit.

What the World Owes to Pasteur.

To Pasteur more than anyone else does the world owe a debt for his classic researches on fermentation, and to one of his strongest pupils, the renowned Duclaux, now the director of the great Pasteur Institute at Paris, the first study of the ripening changes of cheese is to be credited. Duclaux traced these changes to the presence of bacteria, but his methods were of such a character that succeeding workers have discredited in part his results. Following in his footsteps are the names of such illustrious European scientists as Adametz of Austria, Freudreich of Switzerland, Weigmann of Germany, and Lloyd of England. For years these investigators have directed their efforts toward these problems, but many phases of it are still unexplained.

Characteristic Flavors in Cheese.

"The production of the characteristic flavors in the different varieties of cheese is, we believe, due to the action of bacteria, but the fundamental change in the casein has now been shown to be brought about by chemical changes dissociated from living organisms. Previous investigators have eliminated the influence of these enzymes in their results because they have invariably relied upon heat to destroy the bacteria that previously existed in the milk used in their experiments. In thus destroying these organisms they have also 'killed' these ferments.

Of Great Value to Science

"The discovery of these ferments in milk is itself a subject of considerable scientific importance, but when considered in relation to cheese ripening, it has a practical bearing that enhances its theoretical value. The peculiar ripening of filled cheese is in all probability due to the abstraction of the normal enzymes in the centrifuge slime and cream. The replacement of the butter fat does not restore these original milk enzymes, hence the course of the ripening changes is interfered with, and we have in place of the normal curing, changes of a putrefactive character that go on in filled cheese product."

THEIR PASTOR NOT SELECTED

All Souls Pulpit Committee is Waiting for Cold Weather.

Members of All Souls church are in no particular hurry to secure a pastor. They are waiting, they say, for cold weather to set in. Applications for the pastorate made vacant by the departure of the Rev. Victor E. Southworth, have not been made in great number.

WHIR OF BICYCLE WHEELS

CYCLING has affected even the Moors. ALGIERS is to have a bicycle rink completed this month.

A CYCLING club in Madrid, Spain is composed exclusively of children under 9 years of age.

BICYCLES are accepted in Canada as baggage upon street cars and are carried for a nickel extra.

It is reported that a Grand Prix of 50,000 francs will be offered cyclists at the Paris World's fair in 1900.

AUSTRALIA now offers the largest bicycle prizes now known. The A. N. A. prizes $3,750 and the Austral $3,250.

AUSTRIA will impose an imperial tax upon bicycles similar to the one now levied in France, which amounts to $1.92 per annum.

TOURING cyclists are limited to four miles an hour in Wales under severe penalties. Costs and fines approximate over $25 for each violation.

CANADA's new tariff imposes thirty per cent, ad valorem duty upon bicycles and from ten to thirty five per cent upon parts and accessories according to schedule.

So far over seventy devices for more or less practical chainless bicycles have been patented in America and England alone, and of these less than one-third are bevel-gear appliances.

HEAVY damages have been assessed two bicycle firms in Ghent, Belgium, in favor of a chainless wheel maker because they called his product a coffee mill and made other derogatory remarks.

A WELL known French engineer and inventor has patented a new cycle without either chain or tooth gears. The power is produced by means of direct speed multiplying shafts, and has proven very satisfactory in several severe trials.

An English company is turning out a very good ladies' modern bicycle. It is driven by a petroleum motor of one and one-quarter horse power, which is fired by a single ignition tube. It is a chainless (pulley driven) wheel, and is neither complicated nor cumbersome.

NEWS OF CHRIST CHURCH

THE Angelus, the Christ church paper, has just completed its third year. A SUNDAY school social will be held Saturday afternoon, November 6.

CHRIST church ladies served supper in the parish house last evening, and made a marked success.

Rev. A. H. Barrington is preparing a course of Sunday evening lectures on "Some of the Glaring Fads and Unchristian Cults of the Day."

This month's copy of The Angelus contains a halftone cut of the bishops of Milwaukee: Rt. Rev. W. E. Armistage, S. T. D., 1856 to 1873; Rt. Rev. Jackson Kemper, S. T. D., L. L. D., 1854 to 1870; Rt. Rev. E. R. Wells, S. T. D., 1874 to 1883; Rt. Rev. C. F. Knight, D. D., D. C. L., 1889 to 1890; Rt. Rev. I. L. Nicholson, S. T. D., 1891.

PLANS are being made by Rev. A. H. Barrington to grade the Sunday School. He says in the Angelus: "In the irreligion of the times, the lack of religious instruction in the public schools and the indifference of parents in the matter, the few hours passed by the children of the church in Sunday School should be so improved that when these children graduate they shall have learned something definite concerning Christ and His Church."

YOUR CLERKS TELL WHAT YOU ARE LIKE

THEY ARE REPRESENTATIVES OF YOUR BUSINESS.

As They Appear and As They Do So Is Reckoned the House For Which They Work—Courtesy Behind the Counter Is Necessary to Success.

(Copyrighted 1897, by Nathl. Fowler, Jr.)

Is the old adage, "A man is known by the company he keeps" true, and everybody says it is, how much truer must be a newer law of business, claiming that "business is known by the representatives of it."

Not one business man in ten thousand ever sees, or ever can see, more than a small percentage of his customers.

There are but twelve working hours in the busiest man's day, and if he be a good business man, he has all he can attend to in the line of direction, that is, the man of more than ordinary success seldom does much of anything himself, as he can better and more profitably employ his time directing others.

Any fool can work. It takes a genius to make others work.

The general of the army is a better man than the man in the ranks, although he never fires a gun and never individually does any labor.

He is a general because under his direction the army moves and conquers.

The small business man does all his work himself and sees everybody who buys of him. He may succeed, but he succeeds in the smallest possible way.

The business man of real success, directs and has his hands full doing that alone.

The representative of a business, so far as the customer sees, is not the man himself, not that inside power of direction, but the individual salesman or clerk.

Not long ago I stepped upon the platform of a limited train.

The brakeman, an uncouth and brutal fellow, insulted me.

I knew that the president and board of directors of that railroad would not have tolerated this outrage, and I further knew that not one of these men knew the brakeman by name or face, but that railroad was represented to me by the only brakeman I saw, and for the time being, I judged the management of that road by its lowest employe, and even to this day, I have to make an effort not to go over a competing line.

The woman enters the great department store, and a cheap clerk is not polite to her.

She does not know the proprietor, except by name, and she never will know him.

She is obliged to know the clerk, and as that clerk acts so does she believe the proprietor acts.

Through the conduct of this clerk she thinks she sees the inside conduct of the business.

It is so in everything.

We judge by appearance, and refuse to make reasonable allowance, reckoning the goodness of a business by the goodness of the man or woman we see in that business, irrespective of the intellect or ability back of the seen representative.

So far as I know there has never been a failure in any store selling goods where politeness and courtesy were commodities and always in stock.

No matter who you are, or what you are, you are reckoned by your representatives.

The ten-dollar-per-week clerk, for the time being, is you.

Your success is reflected by the appearance or action of those who represent you.

Nearly every successful store is successfully represented by the right kind of employe, and nearly every unsuccessful store is poorly represented by the poorest of employes.

The public seeing side of business is the only side of business the public sees, and your representatives constitute the public-seeing-side of business.

They stand between you and your customers.

You build up a business, and do the directing.

They take what you have done and sell it for you.

They meet the people.

You must have the people.

Without your representatives your gigantic business intellect is like a great show without an announcer.

HELPED MARK A BIRTHDAY

Party of Miss Lulu Griswold's Friends Very Pleasantly Entertained

Miss Lulu Griswold's fourteenth birthday was marked very pleasantly at the home of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Griswold, 57 Mineral Point avenue, last evening. Games made the time pass swiftly, and tempting refreshments were served. The guests were:

Misses—Robena Kellar, Edith Loomis, Mabel Rustad, Lulu McDonald, Irngard Kellar, Ethel Granger, Gladys Heudles, Hannah Stearns, Cora Severhill, Florence Boyce, Allie Griswold, Stella Wilcox, Clara Atris, Lulu Griswold.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warnings of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. C. D. Stevens.

SOME CHAT OF THE COUNTERS

GAY gloves are talked about—cherry-pink with white embroidery, bright red with yellow, and green with light blue.

FUR white lace, mostly in appliques, trim the ends of long black mousseline neck scarfs.

FUR is set on cloth suits in curved and waved bands just as braids are applied.

ENTIRE turbans of feathers are chic and novel.

SHORT Roman silk sashes are being used as throat bows, giving a grey air to sombre costumes.

THE most prominent waist of this season is the cloth blouse in contrast to the skirt, itself of one, or two shades. To make one, about two yards and a half of cloth are needed.

For the braided figures that sometimes nearly cover the surface, satin or taffeta ribbon or black braid is preferred.

Fur is also an appropriate trimming, and the belts usually of the material, of velvet ribbon or metal.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

WITH THE YARDMASTER.

WE all have our little idiosyncrasies and peculiar attributes. Here is a man who sings from morning 'till night. His voice may be clear and musical, again it may be rusty and sound like water running out of a bath tub. There is a man who is a story-teller from the old school. He must tell so many stories each day, or be liable to be taken down with a spell of sickness. With some this is a habit, with others, it is hereditary. There is a man in Janesville who drives a team of horses hitched to a laundry wagon. He is a home-grown, self-made whistler. The habit will no doubt stick to him all through life. He whistles morning, noon and night. He whistles between acts. He whistles at all hours. He whistles when he doesn't know what the hour is, and the beauty of it is, he doesn't care. He—

Whistles in June and December. He whistles ever and anon. He whistles pro and con. He whistles late at night. He whistles out o' sight. The fact is he can whistle louder, harder, stronger and more of it than any man east of the Mississippi river and he is proud of it. Whistling is a gift. I thought at one time I would like to know how to whistle and sing. A friend of mine told me to eat a package of bird seed and two pounds of cuttle fish then I would be able to whistle like a canary. I took his advice and filled up. Two hours later I sent for the family physician.

The basement of the east side engine house has for a long time been idle. It has been of no use except as a harbor for goblins. Chief Spencer will in a short time have the entire space filled with sand. It will require about 250 loads but that won't take long. When the work is completed, should the firemen find themselves in need of grit, why they can find it in the basement at all hours. If at any time any other town should advertise for a basement this one can be removed and sold at a great sacrifice.

There is a question before the saloon keepers which reads as follows: "Shall we continue to serve free lunches?" A free lunch is a good thing but the man who furnishes it does not find it profitable when regular visitors with depleted exchequers go in to spend the evening. A customer who buys a five cent drink should guard against eating a twenty five cent lunch unless he gets his ticket punched. Should some saloon keeper originate an idea by which he could keep even on free lunches he would be hailed as a deliverer.

People living opposite the Northwestern stock yards on Center avenue, do not awaken in the morning and brag of peaceful sleep and tell about the fairies they saw in dreamland. Some nights two or three hundred and a drove of cattle make things hideous. When a hog is nervous from being pried out of shape it is safe to say that no one living in a radius of seven blocks will rest in peace. His dreams will be feverish. One can sleep during a battle but not when a hog offers up a cry of distress.

Every morning at 7 o'clock about forty spectators are on hand to watch the building of the new Northwestern depot. They go home at noon and return at 1 o'clock and stay until the whistle blows. They show earnest interest in the city's progress. The only thing that puzzles a stranger is to guess who has the next move.

A conversation often heard yesterday ran something like this:

"Nice dry."
"Yep, 'tis so, but we need rain."
"That's no josh, I'd say we do."
"Awful dusty in the country, enough to choke a pump."
"Yep, and it makes business so dull too."

NO WASTE OF WORDS.

Evidence Which is Right to the Point and Reliable.

Judge Frank Ives, of District Court of Crookston, Minn., says: "For some time I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with seeming great benefit, with few exceptions, I have not been so free from indigestion in twenty five years."

George W. Roosevelt, U. S. Consul to Brussels, Belgium: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, safe, pleasant to take, convenient to carry, give keen appetite, perfect digestion."

Mr. W. D. Tomlin, Mechanical Engineer, Duluth, Minn.: "One box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has done its work and I am again gaining flesh and strength."

O. E. Ransom, Hustonville, Ky., I was distressed and annoyed for two years with throwing up food, often two or three times a day; had no certainty of retaining a meal if I ate one. Four boxes of the tablets from my druggist have fully cured me. I find them pleasant to take, convenient to carry."

Rev. G. D. Brown, Mondovi, Wis. The effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is simply marvelous; a quite hearty dinner of broiled beef steak causes no distress since I began their use.

Over six thousand people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894, were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50 cents.

Send for little book on stomach diseases, mailed free by Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

"That's where you're aboutin'; business been so quiet with me that I couldn't hear my bills fall due."

COUNTY NEWS IN PARAGRAPH.

Death of Miss Hattie Townsend. Mourned By All-Immersive Funeral.

Magnolia, Oct. 26—Sorrow was brought to the entire community, and its shadow fell over Evansville and Footville as well, in consequence of the death of Miss Hattie Townsend after only one week of sickness. Miss Townsend was beloved by all who knew her. Only nineteen years and five months of age she had yet lived long enough to make her departure a source of general grief. Her disease made such rapid progress that her physicians, three in number, could do nothing to relieve her intense suffering, but through it all she was not heard to murmur or complain.

"It is so nice to be a Christian" she said to her pastor who stood beside her just before she died; and then to the young man who was soon to have been her husband, "I am dying." As a child falls asleep on its mother's bosom she passed away. On Thursday the largest concourse of people ever gathered in the Advent church assembled to pay respect to her memory.

Rev. William Newton preached the funeral sermon. The Methodist choir of Evansville rendered sweet music and the floral decorations were lovely. The beautiful white casket with its precious burden was lowered to its resting place in the little cemetery behind the church, there to await the last great call at the resurrection day. The pall bearers were Ethel Frost, Vera Pfeiffer, Fannie Powles, Alice Hartley and Myrtle Crow, schoolmates and friends of Hattie. "Weeping may endure for a night but joy cometh in the morning."

The funeral of Mrs. Minerva Emmons, who died October 17, 1897, was held at the home of her stepdaughter, Mrs. Helen Baxter, on the 19th inst. Elder Sewell officiating. The interment was made in the West cemetery. John Bahr, who has been under the doctor's care for more than a week, is gaining slowly. Mrs. G. H. Howard and Mrs. Lydia Worthing, who have been visiting relatives in Nebraska, returned home last Saturday. School in district No. 3 came to a close on last Friday. John Rodd is at home, but is no better. Mrs. Jessie Atwood of Milwaukee, arrived in town last Friday. She is a niece of Mrs. Noah Detzer, and will spend several days visiting relatives and friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Mell Chipman were in attendance at the Advent church Sunday morning. Mrs. Altha Howard of Evansville, is spending this week in town. Mrs. Lydia Worthing and Mrs. G. H. Howard had the pleasure of hearing W. J. Bryan lecture, while they were in Nebraska.

SALE OF GROVE PROPERTY

J. W. Davis Disposes of His Property to O. C. Killians—Personal Notes.

Emerald Grove, Oct. 26—J. W. Davis has sold his residence on Main street to O. C. Killians who will move into it very soon. Mr. Davis will build on the lot adjoining. Emerald Grove property has been quite active lately. Henry Seaver, of Hunter, Ill., and Miss Gertrude Westby, of this place will be married on Wednesday of this week. We congratulate Mr. Seaver on winning so estimable a companion and helpmeet. Three candidates were initiated into the M. W. A. camp here on Saturday evening.

Mrs. L. L. Jones, of Harvard, has been engaged to give a reading at this place on Friday evening, Nov. 25. Mrs. Jones has a reputation of being a great reader and impersonator. She will be assisted by musical talent from Clinton. E. H. Ransom and wife left on Monday for Nebraska where they will be for the next week. Before returning to Wisconsin they may visit the Rock Prairie settlement in South Dakota. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lamb on Oct. 21. Everybody well and happy, and the boys smoked. Mrs. Ira P. Nye, of Eureka, Kansas, is visiting her mother Mrs. E. D. Chesbro. Pure Gold flour $1.40 at Gillies & Jones. Farmers are busy husking corn and plowing although it is extremely dry. Barley is being rushed to Delavan at a great rate.

North Johnstown PERSONALS

Watson Aldrich's Home—Nearly Completed

—W. C. T. U. Meeting Thursday.

North Johnstown, Oct. 26—Watson Aldrich has nearly completed the addition to his house. Mrs. Bertha Osborn and son of Milton, have been spending the past week with friends here. The family circle of Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Westrick has been recently increased by the addition of a boy. Mrs. C. C. Carr of Janesville, was with friends here, Monday. Willard Austin and G. E. Osborn have been at Dodge Center and other points in Minnesota for a week past. Remember the W. C. T. U. meeting at the parsonage, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Eugene Cary and Mrs. H. R. Osborne attended the district convention of the W. C. T. U. at Janesville, last week. Housecleaning is the order of the day with the ladies.

CARS INTERFERE WITH LOVERS

Many Seem Pleased Over the Shutting Down of Forest Park Lane.

As a lover's resort Forest Park is again popular. The absence of the cars is no bar from this point of view. On Oakland avenue a resident says he counted twelve couple sitting along the walk last Sunday evening between Jackson street and Forest Park boulevard. They never felt quite at ease with a brightly lighted car dashing through the park every few minutes.

THEY FAVOR ANNEXATION.

It is said on good authority that the mercantile class in Cuba, largely composed of Spanish loyalists, are tired of a devastating war in which the military arm thus far has failed completely. The Cuban insurrection is really more threatening now than when Weyler took command. Towns and plantations have been burned, farms turned into a wilderness, and lines of communication wrecked. The whole interior of Cuba is a dark and bloody ground. Upon the Spanish traders, bankers and importers, living usually in the seaports, has fallen much of the financial loss. They had hoped that the revolt would be crushed this year. But all is uncertainty, with a prospect that concessions will be offered, and a possibility that the insurgents, after winning decisive victories, will dictate terms themselves. A reign of terror is not what the resident Spaniards in Cuba are willing to face, and it seems logical that they should prefer annexation to the United States to independence for Cuba.

A manifestation of this kind on the part of the loyalists in Cuba will have one of two results at Madrid—it will add to the dismay regarding Cuba, or serve to increase a desire to call in the friendly offices of this country. When both the insurgents and the Spanish Cubans favor the annexation the Madrid cabinet must deal with a more difficult crisis than any yet encountered, unless it can find a road to the relinquishment of Cuba. At best the situation is desperate. The new captain general can invent no new enormity, and there is no reason to believe that he is the equal of Campos as a soldier. Every insurgent is strongly encouraged by the continued failure of the Spanish armies sent to Cuba and the change of commanders. The insurgent armies are now composed of vet rans and acquainted with all the resources of their mode of warfare. It is quite credible that the Spanish residents of the seaports are sick of the war, hopeless of further military campaigns, and are organizing in favor of annexation to the United States as the only way to secure permanent peace and the revival of industry.

A number of well meaning business men are talking about "smashing the republican machine" in New York state. As most of the smashers were saved from financial ruin last fall by the fact that the republican machine was sturdy enough to prevent the free silver machine from sweeping the country, and as other work of the same sort is likely to be needed, it will be well not to smash the machine too utterly until some adequate substitute is provided.

CAN'T LET FAIR GROUNDS GO

Agricultural Society Anxious To Have J. M. Bostwick Assume Risk.

The meeting of the Rock County Agricultural society at the court house Saturday afternoon, is called to consider the closing up of the society's affairs. A proposition was made by some of the stockholders to raise enough money by $100 subscriptions, to redeem the grounds, and S. O. Carr expressed himself as confident that it could be done, but there seems to be no disposition on the part of the majority of the stockholders to undertake the task. At present, however, the society is responsible for the buildings in case they should burn or suffer damage in any way. Efforts will be made Saturday to have Mr. Bostwick assume responsibility for the grounds and buildings.

MADISON BOYS PLAY HERE

Red Hot Hair Pulling Event Booked At Athletic Park Nov. 5.

There is a warm time down on the hills for Friday, November 5. At Athletic park, the Madison High school eleven and the Janesville High school team will fight it out.

The local team has won everything this year and has been scored against only once. The Madison boys have done still better by not letting a single high school team in the state score against them.

If the local team even score against the Capital City boys they will do well, as their opponents play frequent practice games with the university eleven and are in good shape. The game will be called at 4:15 o'clock and the whole town has promised to turn out and wear the blue.

SNAKES HAUNT A DWELLING

Spring Brook Residence Shelters Creeping Reptiles—Come From the River.

You have heard of houses being infested with rats, but here is a dwelling right in town that is overrun by snakes. Cornelius Van Kuren started out this week to rent a moderate-price house. Near the corner of Eastern avenue and McKee boulevard, he heard of an empty dwelling with nine acres of land, that he could have for five dollars a month. Its cheapness captivated him, and he at once secured the key, to inspect the home.

No sooner had he opened the front door than he stepped on the tail of a four foot water snake that at once disappeared into the wall. Mr. Van Kuren says that he heard hissing noises all around. He slammed the door shut and for the first time realized why nine acres of good land with a dwelling within the city limits rented for $5 a month. Residents say the snakes come from the river, which is but a few yards from the house.

CHEESE FACTORY BURNED

Fletcher & Zuill's Plant at Utters Corners Goes Up in Smoke—Barn Burned

Fletcher & Zuill's cheese factory in the town of Johnston went up in smoke this morning with all contents. The loss will exceed $900, with partial insurance.

Richard Fletcher and David Zuill were the proprietors of the factory which was situated at Utters Corners. Flames were first discovered about 4 o'clock this morning by the family who occupy rooms on the second floor of the factory. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Thomas Rice, of Johnston, lost a big barn by fire at 8:30 last night. Much fodder and considerable machinery was destroyed. The barn was insured in the Johnston company.

ROCK COUNTY PAYS 70,465 TO STATE

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF THE LEVY RECEIVED.

Expenses Have Increased a Little Each Year and the Revenues Have Decreased Greatly—More Money Is Needed In Caring For the Defective and Criminal Classes.

County Clerk W. J. McIntyre received from the secretary of state today a statement of Rock county's state tax for the year 1897. The amount that Rock county must raise is $70,465.96. Of this, however, about ten thousand dollars will be returned to the county for common schools, and about $8,000 comes back for the care of the insane. The total amount to be raised in the state is $1,995,070. The tax levy this year is on the basis of 3.32511667 mills on the assessed valuation of all real and personal property.

Following is a statement of the taxes to be levied against Rock county:

One mill tax, common school income	Chap. 287, Laws of 1885.....	$21,192.03
3-10 mill tax for the state normal schools, Chap. 91, Laws of 1885, and Chap. 53, Laws of 1897.....		6,357.69
17-40 mill tax for state university, Chap. 300, Laws of 1883, Chap. 29, Laws of 1891, Chap. 241, Laws of 1895, and Chap. 284, Laws of 1895.....		9,006.61
Free High schools, Sec. 496, R. S. of 1880.....		1,766.01
Fifth Normal school, Chap. 364, Laws of 1885.....		353.21
Manual training departments, Chap. 358, Laws of 1895.....		88.31
Interest due on certificates of indebtedness, Sec. 260, R. S. of 1880.....		5,565.37
1-10 mill tax for State Historical Library, Chap. 286, Laws of 1895.....		2,119.20
3-10 mill tax, Chap. 148, Laws of 1897.....		6,357.69
For sundry purposes, Sec. 1071, R. S. of 1880.....		660.62
Total tax.....		$70,465.96
Special Tax of $500,000.....

Besides the annual taxes for the expenses of government there is a special tax of $500,000 to be levied this year for the general fund. This tax is levied under section 1,071 of the Revised Statutes and arises from various causes. Secretary of State Casson thinks the people are entitled to know these causes.

The administration in 1894 used all the money accumulated in the general fund in lieu of the annual tax levy, which was made possible by the receipt of $89,466.10 from the refund of the direct war tax and $327,902.55 from judgments against former treasurers. It created a deficiency in the general fund, which was increased by the extra expense of $100,000 for taking the census. From this it is evident that in 1894 the ordinary revenue was not sufficient to cover expenses up to and including January 15, 1896. To put the general fund on a safe basis, a tax of $173,000 was levied in 1895, which would have been sufficient had the ordinary income remained as in 1894. Instead, the revenues fell off during the years 1895, 1896 and 1897 to the amount of $460,000 as compared with 1894.

Cost of Caring For Insane.

Added to this must be the increase in the maintenance of the chronic insane in the various county asylums. In 1894 the state contributed for this purpose, $270,780.30, of which the counties paid $55,796.10. The amount paid by the state has since gradually increased by reason of the counties transferring inmates of poorhouses to such institutions, the state paying towards the maintenance of those unfortunate $1.50 per week for each person, until it has reached the amount of $343,581.10 in 1897, of which sum the counties paid $67,811.43 and will pay $364,000 in 1898, the counties contributing only $82,000.

Another increase was brought about in the management of the charitable and penal institutions. Here the expenditures have risen from $446,511.73 for the fiscal year of 1895, to $668,386.25 for the fiscal year of 1896, and will reach $774,000 for the period beginning Oct. 1, 1897 and ending Jan. 15, 1899, which increase is accounted for by the opening of the home for the feeble minded, the building of an intermediate state prison, and other permanent improvements, which amount would exhaust all appropriations authorized by law for state institutions up to and including Jan. 15, 1899.

Increase in Expenses

The increase in the volume of the business of the state necessarily entails a natural increase in expense. This, however, would not be sufficient to exhaust the revenues of the state were it not for the increase paid out in the maintenance of the chronic insane in the asylums and the caring for the unfortunate in our state institutions, while the receipts as shown, have decreased very materially.

It is Mr. Casson's opinion that the most serious problem the next legislature of Wisconsin will have to confront will be that of revenue. This same problem is confronting all older states. While the revenues of the state have not increased in any respect in the last decade, the cost of maintaining the charitable, penal and defective classes has very largely increased, owing to an increase in the population of the different state institutions maintained for these people. All other expenses have increased with the growth of the state, but no provision has been made for an increased revenue to meet these increased expenses.

While on top of a stone quarry, this morning, quarrying stone, the top gave way, covering Charles Milbrandt with stone and dirt, crushing him down.

George Bidwell, who was with him, called assistance, and the remains were dug out.

It was found that Milbrandt's neck, lower part of his spine and both legs below the knees were broken, and the bowels, liver and a portion of the left lung was forced out under the left arm.

He never realized what had happened.

The accident occurred on his farm, three miles south of Evansville at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Milbrandt was thirty-three years old and leaves a wife and six small children.

HONOR JANESVILLE MASONS

Wisconsin Consistory Calls a Team From This City to Exemplify Work.

A delegation of thirty-second degree Masons left for Milwaukee on the morning train today. This afternoon at 2 o'clock they exemplify the twenty-first degree of Scottish Rite Masonry.

Janesville is the second city in the state to receive an invitation to exemplify one of the consistory degrees, and the local lodge feels much elated over the honor. The working team that went this morning consisted of the following members:

T. O. Howe, W. F. Carle, C. B. Evans, W. W. Willis, F. H. Howe, George Brink, G. G. Sutherland.

Milwaukee is the only city in the state that has heretofore been honored by an invitation to do this work before the consistory. The reunion in Milwaukee this week is the thirty-fourth semi-annual. A class of eighteen from all parts of the state is presented for the thirty-second degree.

COURSING STONE IN PLACE

Bricklayers Will Begin on the New Depot Tomorrow Morning

The laying of the coursing stone for the new depot was finished today and brick layers will go to work tomorrow. The specification for the depot call for a plank platform. Representatives of the company say that they find plank wears better than either tile or brick when the cost is compared.

Assistant Superintendent E. Hastings, of Milwaukee, who is in charge of the Mineral Point division of the C. M. & St. P. road was here today and looked on appreciatively at the work that was being done across the track. He said he could see no signs of a $30,000 depot on the C. M. & St. P. side of the track.

"It may come later," he said smilingly to a Gazette reporter.

TWO HURT LAST EVENING

Thor Gunderson Broke His Arm—Mrs. George Stevens' Ankle Sprained

Thor Gunderson slipped while walking in the rear of the Grubb block last evening and broke his left arm within an inch of the shoulder joint. His fall was caused by a loose board and he picked himself up and walked without realizing the extent of his injuries.

Mrs. George Stevens of Gore street started for town last evening at seven o'clock. At the corner of Main and Gore streets she stepped off the apron of the crossing and sprained her left ankle severely. So intense was the pain that she fainted before she could be carried home. Dr. W. H. Judd found the ankle to be swollen to three times its natural size.

ARM BROKEN IN GYMNASIUM

Ross Bump's Fall Last Evening Resulted In Painful Injury

Ross Bump lost his hold while swinging from the horizontal ladder at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 8:45 and received serious injuries. As he fell he threw himself around in order to save his back and broke his left arm near the wrist besides receiving severe sprains. He was about six feet from the ground when he lost his hold. The gymnasium management have been fortunate in respect to accidents there having been but two before that of last night.

JEFFRIES MILL BURNS FOR SECOND TIME

LOSS OF $20,000 WITH $10,700 INSURANCE.

Flames Broke Out Early In the Morning, the Cause Being Unknown—The Plant Will Be Rebuilt As Soon As Possible—Many Hands Idle.

The David Jeffries lumber mill at Jeffries, Wis., is in ashes for the second time in four years. The mill caught fire at noon on Monday, according to letters received in this city today and was burned to the ground, much valuable machinery being destroyed.

The loss is about $20,000 and the insurance $10,700.

The mill employed one hundred and seventy men throughout the winter and was the only mill of any consequence in that section.

When it was burned three years ago there was no insurance on it. The insurance carried this year will by no means cover the loss, which is made greater by the forced suspension of business during the most active part of the year.

The plant will be rebuilt at once. The cause of the fire is not known.

THE BEST OF ALL THE DEAR OLD SONGS.

The songs they sing, the songs they sing,
Those half remembered memories of ours!
How the hours with merry rhythm ring
With all the world of dreamland clothed with flowers!
Sweet melody, the singing of the old time
scythe,
Sent whispering through the grass by mowers
blithe,
But best of all the dear old songs to wear
Are the songs that came from grandma's rock-ing chair.

I half remember of an old time spring
How clear the robin's first call seemed to ring,
And how the snow in merry, singing way,
With feathery flakes made white the barren way.
And how the brook went whispering through the dell,
Singing words no tongue may ever tell.
Those idle afternoons, those happy days,
When I was but a boy with boyish ways;
But, looking back, the best of all to wear
Are the songs that came from grandma's rock-ing chair.

They are dear songs, the songs they sing,
Those half remembered memories of ours.
They make the air with merry cadence ring
And crown the time with king with a wreath of flowers.
The dreams of winter and the dreams of spring
Make music sweet of half the songs they sing.
From lazy days, those days of idle joys,
When boyish like I dreamed the dreams of boys,
But best of all the dear old songs to wear
Are the grandma songs from grandma's rock-ing chair.
—Walter M. Hazeltine in Good Housekeeping.

TWO TRAMPS.

A young fellow was swinging along up the dusty road whistling in a way that made the robins cock their heads to listen. He was a good looking young fellow, with dark curly hair and a fine browned complexion. His clothes were coarse and stout, he wore a slouch hat turned down all around, and from hat to shoes he was gray with dust. He bore a stout stick in his hand and walked with a light, springy step, whistling gayly as he advanced.

He had just reached the brow of the hill when a peculiar sight drew his attention. To the right at some distance stood a pretty white cottage with budding maples all about it. It was so neat and cozy that the young man would have paused to look at it if there had been no other attraction. Something else did attract him, however, something which quickened his pace to a run.

Standing on the steps of the porch was a gray haired lady, and facing her from the walk below stood a defiant specimen of the genus tramp. Behind the old lady in the doorway was a young woman with a fire shovel in her hand. As the young man opened the gate he heard a volley of oaths from the tramp, coupled with an emphatic demand for food. From this the gray haired lady shrank back, and the ruffian sprang up the steps, and, pushing her aside, attempted to enter the door.

"Hold on, there!" cried the young man from the graveled pathway. The tramp turned and saw him coming.
"Wot's that?" he snarled.

With one more bound the young man was on the porch, pausing slightly, but ready for action.

"Has he annoyed you, ma'am?" he cried, and his hat came off as he spoke.

"Yes," said the gray haired lady in a trembling voice. "He said we must get him some breakfast and give him some money."

The tramp stood in a defiant attitude, his sullen eyes regarding the young man with an ugly stare. As the youth turned from the lady, the ruffian glared at him from head to toe.

"Say," he growled, "you ain't a-workin' this side o' the street, too, be you?"

"Come, now," said the young man quietly, "you climb off the porch and chase yourself down the road. Vamoose!
Git!"

He made a sudden move toward the fellow, who backed quickly down the steps. There he paused and delivered another volley of profanity.

"Come down here," he shouted, "an we'll fight to see who runs this ranch."

"I'm coming," said the youth, and he flung his hat on the porch and followed it with his coat. Then he turned to the women and said, "Ladies, have the kindness to retire within the house until this job is over."

Then he leaped from the porch and the battle royal began. It was not a fight for poets to sing. It was a struggle between blind force on one side and skilled agility on the other. It didn't last long, but the young man was dimly conscious that one time in the fight, when the big fellow was crowding him pretty hard, the young girl stood close at hand with the fire shovel poised in a decidedly threatening way. Finally an adroit blow sent the ruffian to grass, and when he got up he limped down
the pathway and through the gate, escorted by the young man, and so disappeared.

When the deliverer came back for his hat and coat, the old lady met him with profuse thanks, and the young lady smiled at him in a most charming way. Was there anything he wanted—breakfast, a glass of milk? He said he would like a glass of water, and the young lady swiftly brought it. As the young man took it from her hands he permitted himself to be instantly convinced that she was decidedly pretty—a slender young woman in a cheap dress of dark material, with a big blue apron over it, and a white cap concealing her dark hair. But her face was bright and rosy, and when she said, "Will you have another?" the youth was quite sure he had never heard a more musical voice. As he picked up his hat the gray haired lady said:

"Would you like to earn a little money, my good young man?"

"Why, yes, I would," the young man admitted.

"Then," said the older lady, "perhaps you could beat a few rugs and a small carpet for us?"

The young man looked at the pretty girl and said he thought he could.

"It's just this way," said the older lady: "Our hired girl has been called home by a sick mother, and our hired man sprained his wrist so badly that he ing to stop a runaway horse that he gone into town to have it doctored, so so Stella and I are left alone to run up the housekeeping. But if you'll clean the rugs it will be a great help us. Stella will show you where everything is."

And so under Stella's guidance the clothesline was put up, and the rugs were brought out, and pretty soon the sound of a stout stick went applied to heard. Every time the young man paused he looked toward the young girl, who, with her skirts tucked in was flitting in and out of the doorway, or pausing—a very pretty picture in deed—on the top step of the entrance porch. She was a demure girl, the young man noted, and not inclined to talk to the help, but once in a while, when he chanced to catch her eye, he fancied he detected a most mischievous twinkle. After awhile she came toward him.

"I don't believe you ever beat a rug before," she said.

"And why not?" he cried.

"Because you work too hard at it,"
she laughed.

"Well, to tell you the truth," he said, "I'm working hard in hopes that your mother will give me a little luncheon. I'm hungrier than a starved bear."

"I'll see what mother thinks about it," she said and ran into the house.

Then the older lady came forth and carefully inspected the rugs.

"You do your work very conscientiously," she said.

"I try to, ma'am," he remarked.

She looked at him curiously.

"It's a pity to see such a fine young man tramping," she said. "Why don't you give it up?"

"I'm thinking of it, ma'am," he answered.

"A sober, industrious man like you,"
she continued, "should marry and settle down."

"I'm thinking of that, too, ma'am," he said, and somehow he looked toward Stella as he said it, and Stella, who was in the doorway, caught his glance
and cried abruptly:

"Your luncheon is ready."

The young man soused his head in a tin wash basin a few times and then pronounced himself also ready.

It was a nice midday spread, and Stella waited on him. As his eye took in the details of the painfully clean kitchen he suddenly cried out:

"Do you ride a wheel?"

"Why, yes," she answered calmly.

"Don't you?"

He stopped short and sipped at his glass of milk.

"A tramp on a bicycle! Ha, ha!" he laughed, but it was a forced laugh.

After luncheon the young man announced that he was obliged to go to town, but he would come back at 5 o'clock that afternoon, and perhaps he could be of further service. The older lady offered him his pay.

"Keep it for me until I get back from town," he said. "I never have any money in my pocket without wanting to spend it."

"Poor young man!" said Stella's mother.

Then with lifted hat the poor young man strode down the path and vanished behind the hedge that bordered the highway.

"I wonder if he will ever come back?" quoth Stella's mother.

"Yes, he'll come back," said Stella.

It was nearly 5 o'clock that afternoon when a natty young man in an exceedingly becoming bicycle suit came wheeling down the road from Centerville. Presently he was aware that a rider was approaching, a rider in a charming gray suit and hat and with the daintiest russet shoes. He turned aside to give the newcomer the best of the road when a merry voice cried out:

"Coming back for your money?"

He stared around in astonishment.

"Why, it's Stella!" he cried. "I beg your pardon, Miss!"

"Stella Gorham," she called as she turned about and pedaled to his side.

"I am John Trenholm," he said,
"the treasurer of the new Centerville mills."

"Yes," she said demurely, "I could have told you that."

"You knew me?"

"I guessed it. I knew you were coming to Centerville, and I had heard of you before. Your sister and I were at Wellesley together. Why, Mabel gave me one of your photographs—there, I shouldn't have told you that."

"Why," he said, "I've heard of you too. Valedictorian of your class, pride of!"

"There, there," said Stella, "that will be quite sufficient." She pushed her wheel ahead and left him a little behind.

"Do you know," she said as he caught up, "mother will almost die from mortification."

"Not if she pays me what she owes," laughed the youth. Then he added, with a mischievous glance at the girl,
"I am going to try and coax another meal out of her."

"I've attended to that," said Stella.

And so side by side they rode down
the road and up the pathway to the cottage.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Warned By Smell of Smoke

The many fires of late have made people think about their insurance—the companies in which it is written, and the amount covered. The good business man does not forget that his property may go next. He does not expose himself to a crippling loss.

MORE GARLANDS SOLD THAN ANY OTHER MAKE.

Sales increase each year. This fact speaks volumes. The most popular Stoves in the world.

THERE IS ONLY ONE PROOF OF ABILITY

.....AND THAT IS ACTION.....

There is plenty of action in the makers of the Garlands. They are proving their ability in the sales of Garlands. Garland Stoves and Ranges are made under one name but are in several grades to suit every purse. Garlands cost no more than other first-class goods of their kind, and possess many advantages not to be found in any other. The Garland name is a guarantee of quality. Often imitated; never equalled.

All Styles and Sizes for Every Kind of Fuel

The Genuine all bear this Trade-Mark. Beware of Imitations

Russian Blouses.

We show the nobbiest line in town, among them being some of the higher class that are gems of the cloak makers' art—exclusive styles direct from New York. A line for Misses' wear in sizes 14, 16 and 18 also in stock.

Coats for Girls.

Three hundred sample Coats for Misses, sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, inexpensive garments for school wear that are proper as regards style and make up. Cute Coats, ranging in price from $3 to $10, that would ordinarily be one-third more. Tell the girls to call in after school and see them.

Flannelette Wrappers.

The new line is in, and it displays well made Wrappers in a splendid range of patterns; all sizes, 32 to 44. All of the regular styles in Print Wrappers are shown—75c and up.

Silk Waists.

There is an air about the line we handle that attracts. Other stores show waists, but there is something lacking in them when compared to ours. The talk of the town among women is the excellence of our waist showings. All the latest in blouse effects are in the line.

Our Millinery

Is Parisian in everything but price—and the difference in the latter is all in the favor of our customers. No prettier, more stylish hats than ours could be obtained in Paris at four times the cost. We are showing copies of the best creations of the leading modistes at a fraction of the price you would have to pay for the originals. Better not buy your new hat without coming here first.

Comforter Coverings.

Another sale of them this week. About ten days ago we advertised a lot of prints for comforter coverings and dress purposes, expecting we had enough to last a week; but at the end of the first days' sale they were about cleaned out, with the result that many customers were disappointed. Direct from the mill we have received another two case lot consisting of 3000 yards, if anything a better lot than before; colors are black and white, silver greys, blues, reds, &c. They are Simpson's best standard prints and usually retail at 6c; for this sale price will be the same as at the former sale 3 1/2c—per yard.....

Our Men's Shoes

.....FOR THIS FALL.....

The accompanying cut shows the "ENGLISH BULL DOG LAST."

This last has a broad tread. We are showing it in a box calf with the new 'Reka lining' on this toe. An absolutely winter Shoe; brass oval eyelets and hooks; no better made, $5.00.

On the modified bull dog coin last we are showing a box calf with rope stitched edge, at $4.00.

Also a Russia Calf, winter tan, with the rope stitch edge, at $4.00.

This cut shows our New POLAR CALF....

Another swell Shoe, dark brown shade, for winter wear, chrome kid lined, heavy extension edge sole, and waterproof, $5.00.

We have the Willow Calf on a little narrower toed last, made up same as the Polar Calf, waterproof, $5.00.

We also have the Black Vici in heavy extension sole, with chrome tanned kid lining. This is a dressy Shoe and can be worn without a rubber or an overshoe.

This cut shows the LATEST COIN TOE....

We have this in a new winter Russia Calf, new shade, at $4.00.

In Black Vici Kid, $4.00.
In Russian Cordovan, welt sole, $3.50.

In Calf Skin, both light and heavy soles, $3.00.
In Kangaroo Calf, any toe, $2.50.

In Satin Oil Calf Skin, $2.50.

We have the best $1.50 Man's Shoe on earth, on any toe, lace and congress. Look for us. We are the Foot Fitting Shoe Men, on the Bridge.

Most Every Young Fellow...

Has an idea that in order to be the owner of a.....

Dress Suit...

He must "plank" down from $50 to $75 to his tailor, and, with most of them that is a larger amount than they feel able to put into such an article. It is not necessary to pay so much for a Dress Suit we can assure every young man in town.

$30 to $35

Will buy a Suit equal in every way to the custom-made $50 and $75 garments. We take your measure, send it to the STEIN-BLOCH CO. and guarantee you a perfect fit.

The Clothes Don't Make the Man

But a Dress Suit at a swell party goes a long way toward giving the wearer a most comfortable feeling and insures him a better time than if he did not have it on. For $20 to $25 we sell you a Dress Suit from stock equal to any $40 tailor made Suit. The full Dress Suit--the dress of society--never radically changes; can be worn for years, and always ready to wear when you need it.

New ideas in Shirt Protectors for evening dress; high cut to protect the collar, of satins and silk, Scotch Plaid and Roman stripe, silk lining, $1.50 to $2.00. Full Dress Ties, String Ties, four fold in 3-4, 7-8, and 1-inch widths. 10c to 25c; fall styles. Ready tied Bow, same appearance as those you tie yourself, 10c to 25c. White Kid Gloves are popular for evening wear, latest styles, $1.00 to $1.50. Shirts, Handkerchiefs Studs and Cuff Buttons for evening wear--all the proper sort.
